SPECIAL SESSION ABOUT MAY 15TH NOW IN PROSPECT

If Treaty Is Ready Sooner Congress May Meet Earlier

PRESIDENT CAN SEND CALL BY CABLE IT IS CLAIMED

President Is Laying Plans Against His Possible Return to U. S.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Friday, March 21.—A special session of both houses of the American congress probably will be called to assemble about the middle of May, the date when President Wilson hopes to return to the United States.

It is possible that if the treaty of peace is sufficiently advanced to warrant such a course, a special session to afford it opportunity to deal with the treaty may be called even earlier than the date when President Wilson hopes to return to the United States.

It is held to be unnecessary for President Wilson to be in Washington when the call for such a special session is issued, for this may be cabled from Paris in advance of his departure from France. Mr. Wilson, however, has reached no decision regarding the question and is reserving the shaping of his course of action until he has a more definite idea of the date of his return to America.

The president is also keeping in touch with the development of sentiment in the United States toward a League of Nations. If the situation appears to him to demand such action, he is not unlikely that shortly after his return from Europe he will make an extended speaking tour, presenting his view of the issue directly to the voters in the states whose senators are opposed to the ratification of the league plan.

ITALIAN PROBLEM IS SOLVED, IS BELIEF

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Friday, March 21.—Hope was expressed tonight in peace conference circles that the Italian problem would be presented which would surmount the difficulty in the way of completion of the peace-making work of the conference raised by the threat of Italy to withhold approval of any peace conference treaty not definitely settling the Italian-Jugo-Slav controversy. President Wilson has the whole question before him and it is from him that the plan upon which hope of a satisfactory settlement is based is looked for.

The action of the Italian delegation taken as a unit, amounting virtually to an ultimatum, directed to the supreme council, gave great concern to other delegations today. Although the supreme council was occupied with a consideration of the western Polish boundary, the peace conference, with General E. H. House, were engaged in trying to find some solution to the very difficult problem presented by the action of the Italians.

The fear has been expressed by some of the Italian delegates that immediately after the conclusion of the German treaty, President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George, and perhaps other leading figures in the council, would leave Paris and the remaining members of the council would not have full powers to deal with Italian demands.

The state of mind of the Italian public is declared to be such that the failure of the Italian delegation to return from Paris speedily with title to Fiume and the Dalmatian coastal lands might easily have great internal results, according to statements by some of the delegates. Thus for many weeks past they have been simply flooding other delegations and the offices of foreign correspondents with literature to support Italian claims. This included the Serbian delegation. Paris is very sharp response which were given to the press and which denounced Italian contentions as being in absolute violation of President Wilson's "fourteen points" because they deny access to the sea to the Jugo-Slav population in the interior.

The whole question will go before President Wilson for consideration and solution. One possible solution of the problem now under consideration is that military experts of the supreme council, who have discharged themselves of German war issues, should at once consider the Italian claims under instructions to present a solution in time to secure action upon them simultaneously with the disposition of the German peace treaty. One difficulty in the way is the lack of a competent government in Austria to negotiate.

POMERENE WOULD VOTE FOR LEAGUE WITHOUT CHANGE

Ohio Senator Prefers, However, Amendment Safeguarding Monroe Doctrine

NO BETTER PLAN SUGGESTED BY CRITICS OF LEAGUE

Declares Peace Treaty Without League Would Be Worthless

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 22.—Speaking here today in support of the League of Nations, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, a Democrat, of the senate foreign relations committee said that while preferring amendment of the proposed constitution so as to make it more definite and to specifically exempt from its provisions the Monroe doctrine, he would support it whether it was changed or left untouched. The address was delivered at a luncheon of the Cleveland city club.

"Whatever of imperfections there may be in the proposed League of Nations," said Senator Pomerene, "I submit that up to date no better plan has been proposed by any of the critics of the measure. They and we hope that some means may be devised whereby to prevent war in the future. The opponents have pointed out some defects in this plan, but they give nothing constructive to take their place, and we may say as we choose, the world will not forgive those in authority if they do not exert themselves to the utmost to bring about some plan which will give promise and hope for the future."

Discussing recommendations made by Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Knox of Pennsylvania, Republicans, that considerations of plans for the league be deferred until after peace has been established, Senator Pomerene said the league and the peace treaty were so intertwined that one without the other would be worthless. "I recognize that the proposed constitution is not logically arranged," he continued, "that it is poorly phrased" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

The trip was characterized by extremely unfavorable weathering, and the feat is regarded as ranking perhaps the most notable flight of the kind ever undertaken.

The total length of the round-trip was 1250 air miles, and the time was about 40 1/2 hours.

Commerce Board at Washington Predicts Other Materials Will Follow Steel Prices.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 22.—Price agreements affecting the more important materials, in an effort toward revival and stabilization of business, are expected to follow quickly the agreement reached here yesterday between steel producers and the new industrial board of commerce.

Lumber was taken up today, leaders of the industry's conference with the board. Although elements of the lumber situation are in some respects different from those of the steel industry, the same basis road was presented to the congress. Relation of lumber to other building material also was involved.

The example set by the steel industry is noted upon strongly by the industrial board as an influence toward success in negotiations with representatives of other raw material men. While the effect of the steel prices, lowered from 10 to 14 per cent is expected to be adverse, temporarily at least, on a few of the so-called "high cost" steel plants, the general industrial result officers believe, will be beneficial and immediate.

The steel price agreement, it is believed, will be considered as a possible violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

MONROE DOCTRINE IS RECOGNIZED IN CLAUSE OFFERED

Swiss Delegates Offer an Amendment to Guard Nations' Sovereignty

AMERICAN ENVOYS FAVOR IT AS MEETING OBJECTIONS

Recognizes Internal Affairs As Outside of League's Jurisdiction

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, March 22.—Because of President Wilson's desire to attend the sessions both of the council of ten and the League of Nations commission, today's peace conference program was reversed. The council met at 11 o'clock this morning while the League of Nations body, whose session originally had been set for 10 o'clock this afternoon, will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In connection with the League of Nations commission's session, the Swiss delegates to apply to the League of Nations the text of the amendment proposed by the Swiss delegation to the conference of neutrals was given out this morning. It reads:

"This covenant shall not be interpreted as containing anything contrary to the sovereignty of states, except insofar as the state itself, by adhering to the covenant, shall consent, and the covenant shall not interfere with the internal affairs of any of its members."

While the amendment does not mention the Monroe doctrine it is clearly understood to apply to the members of the American delegation are inclined to accept an amendment on such lines feeling that it would meet the demand of the United States for some declaration in the spirit of the Monroe doctrine.

NEUTRALS DISCUSS COERCIVE CLAUSE

Paris, Friday, March 21.—(Havas)—Delegates to the conference of neutrals devoted considerable time today to the discussion of the article of the League of Nations covenant which provides for coercive measures against a state breaking relations with the league without submitting its grievances to the executive body of the league. Amendments were prepared stipulating that force might be used only in case of necessity, that it might be brought to bear only after economic pressure had been insufficient and that small states might decline to take warfare steps.

Lord Robert Cecil, who presided, said that if small states were allowed to refrain from military action, the League of Nations would be a mockery. The principle that armaments should be reduced to a minimum was recognized by the conference.

ALLIES TO SEND BOARD TO STUDY IN SYRIA

(Associated Press Telegram)

It follows, the newspaper adds, that the attribution of mandates for Ottoman Asia cannot be decided on before the return of the commission, several months hence.

MAY RETURN BEFORE PEACE PACT IS SIGNED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 22.—It was said unofficially at the White House today that President Wilson might return to the United States by May 1, leaving Paris immediately after reaching an agreement on the principal features of the peace treaty, without waiting for the actual signing of the document. An extra session of congress not later than May 15 now is regarded as a certainty among officials and leaders in congress, and if the president is able to return as early as May 1 both houses may be called to meet very shortly after that date.

ITALY OR JUGO-SLAVS IS CHOICE PUT UP TO ENVOYS SAYS OFFICER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Hull, N. S., March 22.—The allies must choose between Italy and the Jugo-Slavs, General Guglielmo, military attaché of the Italian embassy at Washington, declared in an address before the Canadian club here last night. "You in Canada have lost," he said. "You trust it because you made it. You have just lost judges and policemen, yet you shut the doors of your houses. Italy also relies upon the justice of the League of Nations; but first she wants the door of her home shut. France feels likewise and asks the allies to give her a strong frontier. A choice must be made between Italy and Jugo-Slavs. As Italy has been loyal to her allies in the common cause until the last, so her allies must be loyal to Italy. We rely upon France and the United States but especially upon our own dear England."

OVERSEA BRIDES REACH NEW YORK

Fifty-One Wives of Soldiers and Sailors Land With Part of Buckeye Division

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 22.—With 2,255 troops the transport Louisville arrived here today from Bristol. Ten officers and 666 men came home sick or wounded. Also aboard were 24 wives of soldiers, 27 wives of sailors and a few naval officers and men, and 40 nurses. Organizations included four detachments, including 12 officers and 827 men of the 48th infantry, 37th division (Ohio National Guard), for Camp Dix, Union, Lewis and Bowie, and surgical units. Numbers 100, 101 and 102. Among the more than 300 casualties aboard were casual companies Numbers 375 and 1241, Ohio 375, Texas 1,422, Louisiana, and 169 Massachusetts.

The 37th division arrivals who came home in command of Major Connor, El Paso, Texas, were nearly all replacements from states other than Ohio. Private Alfred Starikoff, Detroit, was one of 17 Michigan men on board who have been fighting with American forces in Archangel against the Bolsheviks. The Bolsheviks, he said, were armed with trench guns and manned largely by German officers.

Romance is associated with the return of the 17-year-old bride of Private John Latham of Little Rock, Ark. Latham, who was killed in the home of the city's father, was wounded and nursed him back to health. Latham is in New York with a casual company slated for early return home.

When the Louisville was 768 miles out from France the storm came on board. It's a 7-foot round cargo ship christened Lord Scott Kemp, the first name because the ship was the Louisville and the second because the boy's father, John Kemp, an American sailor of Philadelphia, was stationed at a naval base in Scotland.

Dayton, March 22.—Dayton is to lose its two aviation posts, the Wright field and the McCook experimental field, both active flying and test posts, until the time of the signing of the armistice and with their passing the activities in aviation work will be eliminated from the city's life. During the war Dayton was the air center of the nation and entertained flyers from every one of the allied countries. Every foreign air mission landed here and the world's altitude of 24,500 feet was broken by Major R. W. Schroeder at the Wright field. More than 2,000 De Havilland four-engine bombers were turned out from a local plant. At one time more than 2,000 flyers, soldiers and officers of the air service were exhibited here, and an entire office building of 10 floors had been leased by the government for carrying on aeronautic work.

BAKER DECLARES LEAGUE WILL COMMAND SUPPORT

(Associated Press Telegram)
El Paso, Tex., March 22.—"When President Wilson comes back from France with the treaty of peace containing the League of Nations designed to save the world from a repetition of that awful catastrophe through which it has just passed, I am going to be for that league and I will not be alone," Secretary Newton D. Baker declared here last night in an address.
"Over in France they are writing a treaty of peace to end this war," he continued. "We have a champion there pleading that the constitution of the League of Nations, which will substitute intelligence and arbitration for war, be included in it. This is not a partisan question in this country and rightly so. The most effective advocate of the League of Nations is ex-President William H. Taft, whose speeches have been eloquent in its behalf. It is a question of making such arrangement that will unite the forces of intelligence of mankind and substitute arbitration for force in deciding international questions.
"Shall we have a League of Nations founded on secret covenants or a league founded on every nation may be a member of a body formed for the purpose of bringing together the intelligence of mankind on international disputes and thus ending war?
"The difficulty with us is we have not looked war in the face."

and that it is written in it involved and somewhat stilted form that characterizes many diplomatic documents. Even President Wilson's bitterest enemies, while they have charged him with all kinds of crimes and misdemeanors, have not even presumed to charge him with being responsible for his language.
Senator Pomerene said he would prefer to have amended Section Seven, which gives great Britain and her dominion five votes in the body of delegates, but added that an examination of the document showed safeguards which relieved this feature of its principal objections.
"For one, I am willing to try the experiment," the senator concluded. "I submit that whatever the results may be, the efforts for peace in this belief can not be worse in their consequences than was the war."
"The danger is not yet over. So long as the allied troops are in the field there may be no danger from the German armies. But there is an enemy lurking on our coast, and the fear of operations to be even as destructive to the civilization of the world as the German forces—that is the spirit of the aggressiveness which prevails among the Bolsheviks and in Germany and Austria, even the common foe of our civilization, the common foe of all government and law believes the United States and her allies to take common counsel for the defense of humanity."
The senator then declared that the construction was contradicted in time and place. I am sure that it will be contradicted in time of peace. Sure I am right and I refuse to join them in any of the efforts to prevent peace when we have won it in time of war to establish peace.

AUSTRIAN TELLS FORMER EMPEROR TO LEAVE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Copenhagen, March 22.—The Vienna government has once more notified former Emperor Charles that it is desirable that he quit the country, but no pressure has been brought to bear to force him to leave, according to telegrams received here from the Austrian capital. It is declared that the maintenance of a court at Beckartsau, which it has been said, former Emperor Charles would hold, is contrary to the new constitution adopted by the national assembly. Some commentators insist that the former emperor convert his renunciation of the throne last November into an abdication for himself and the house of Hapsburg.

ALHAMBRA.
"Peck's Bad Girl."
Mabel Normand rounts a village "vamp" in record time in her latest Goldwyn picture, "Peck's Bad Girl," by Tex Chaffee, which is showing at the Alhambra theater.
When Hortense Martinot came from the big city to cast a spell over nearly gaudy in Yaptank, it was no affair of Mabel Peck's (played by Miss Normand). It is only when Hortense tries to "make" Mabel's brother, Willie, that Mabel decides the quicker she rids Yaptank of Hortense the better it will be for all the villagers.
Mabel's chance comes when she discovers through some adroit detective work that the village "vamp" is in league with a band of bank robbers who have designs on the vault of the Yaptank bank.

Brother Willie, to Mabel's annoyance, has grown to love Hortense and innocently helps her scheme. He is employed in the drug store adjoining the bank and Hortense's frequent calls at the store are not to see him, as Willie thought, but to learn what part of the cellar it will be safest for her thieving associates to work in an attempt to

"Her Inspiration."
Always a great favorite with motion picture audiences, charming May Allison will be seen in a new Metro play at which gives her every opportunity to display the abilities which have endeared her to so many thousands.
"Her Inspiration," written expressly for Miss Allison by George D. Baker and Tom J. Geraghty, is the story of the Kentucky hills—a fresh sweet romance adds charm to the many adventures which befall a young playwright who goes up into the hills to get the necessary "local color" for his forthcoming play.
That there is a mystery which adds to the charm of the distinctly original plot, which possesses, besides humor and love, adventure and thrilling suspense.

A comedy, "Her Screen Idol," is an added feature.

"Every Mother's Son."
Every mother who has known a son, every son who has known a mother, will be interested in the William Fox photo-spectacle, "Every Mother's Son," which is coming to the Alhambra theater for a run of two days, beginning Monday.

The leading role is taken by Charlotte Walker, the well-known stage star. She portrays a wife and mother who gives her husband and three sons to the cause of her country. Her struggle between patriotism and mother love is declared to be one of the most powerful delineations of character which the films have produced.

R. A. Walsh, the director, has interwoven this touching "mother theme" with a delightful love story and with big scenes in the great draft, on the battlefields of France, at the peace conference at Versailles, and in the period of reconstruction.

"The Master Mystery."

play of the season in six parts. Catherine Calvert in her greatest effort wearing gowns that cost a fortune. Story especially written for the star, directed by Sidney Olcott, with more than a thousand extras appearing in one of the big scenes. Many big thrilling scenes are presented, one of them being the wife learns she has married the man who wronged her sister. The family motto was: "Death before dishonor," which was pretty well lived up to. A wonderful special production. Secured for our Sunday patrons.

Monday.

Experiences that are common to all people, north or south, east or west, and amusing episodes that every man or woman will recognize as his or her own individual experiences are shown in Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount picture, "Bab's Burglars," which will be presented at the Gem theatre Monday.
The youth with the budding mustache who gets desperately ill on smoking his first cigar; the boarding-school girl who spends her year's allowance in a month; the father who understands his girl's frequent outbursts and stands by through thick and thin; all these and many more are found in Mary Robert Rinehart's clever story of a youthful "sub-deb" which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post recently.

AUDITORIUM.
"Shadows of Suspicion," a gripping drama of the Secret Service, in which Harold Lockwood plays the leading role, was shown at the Auditorium yesterday to an audience that fully appreciated this powerful Screen Classic, the production which shows the popular star in the greatest work of his screen career.

The story centers around the mystery of the ever-watchful Secret Service and combines a plot of intrigue and daring with a romance of rare beauty. The leading character, a young Englishman, Cyril Hammersley, played by Harold Lockwood, is accused by his friends of showing the white feather. He has not enlisted in the army nor is he seen to work for the government in any manner. There is also an ugly rumor that he is accepting German money to betray the secrets of his country. So persistent is this story that two German spies, doing their treacherous work in London, consider him to be one of themselves—a base creature working against his countrymen for a fortune of the Kaiser's gold. The last showings are seen today.

"The Scarlet Shadow."

Alvira Evans, a puritanical spinster, made a prisoner of her niece, Elena. The girl was not allowed to leave the hedged in garden because she declared Elena's mother had been wayward and wicked, and she was constantly looking for the same "scarlet strain" to show itself in Elena.
Elena was seen by young Van Presby, a college student, who persuaded her to steal out for a night at the movies. On returning, Elena was un-city and gave her a home with Van's mother. When Harvey showed an interest in Elena, Edith took a jealous dislike to her.

She took advantage of Harvey's temporary absence to bring Elena in contact with Joseph Fleming, an unrefined millionaire. "The Life Mask."
A decided innovation in the type of film story which Madame Olga Petrova has appeared in during the past few months will mark the release of her special starring vehicle, "The Life Mask," directed by Frank Crane. The building of the scenario has been so skillfully handled as to leave serious doubt in the minds of the audience regarding the final outcome of the story until the very last scene has been played on the screen. Through a peculiar chain of circumstances, the guilt for the murder of a wealthy society leader and financial man is thrown on all of the leading characters, including Madame Petrova herself. The unraveling of the tangled skein of events affords pictureplay entertainment of the most inviting nature.

Told briefly the plot deals with an unwilling marriage forced upon Madame Petrova in the role of Anita Contant, in order to save the family honor. Clay Woodruffe, her husband, is injured through a fall, and during his illness drives the young wife to the point of desperation through his brutal and inhuman treatment. One evening while sitting up with the invalid, Madame Petrova, as Anita, undergoes a dreadful nightmare. When she awakens, her husband is dead. Then follows a rapid chain of circumstances in which suspicion is cast upon herself, the nurse and three other inmates of the house.

This is time is seen at the Auditorium for "three days commencing Monday, together with the big musical novelty, "The Life Mask," directed by Frank Crane, seven in number who have been engaged at a high salary as a sort of experiment by the management. You can

INSTINCT OF WORKMANSHIP.

In the old days manual laborers were keenly interested in their product. The shoemaker in his little shop took pride in the honest shoes he turned out for his neighbors. He built the whole shoe, from the cutting of the leather to the final application of dressing. He handed it over to his customer as proudly as an artist delivering his painting.

Modern industrial conditions are not such as to stimulate that pride. Instead of turning out a whole shoe, the worker may simply insert a few stitches of thread or drive a nail into each one of a great number of shoes. The man who contributes such a small fraction of the completed shoe, can not easily feel a pride in the total product.

But when a man's pride of workmanship has gone, you have taken the heart out of his work. His energy is apt to be concentrated on getting more pay for less hours of labor.

How can the modern worker be interested to take pride in his small fractional process? One method that has made much success, is to keep careful records of processes, and to have the results tabulated or displayed in a chart form, and then given to the employees.

A worker can thus see whether his production is superior or inferior in quality. This quickly arouses the spirit of emulation, the desire to keep up with standard records. A man hates to feel his product has fallen below what others have done and are doing. Some plants running on such systems are reporting that they have doubled production and improved quality. If such methods could be introduced in all industries, there would be a new spirit in American business. Labor troubles would tend to disappear, expense of production would go down, and cost of living would be lowered for everyone.

IN BLOOD DISEASES

Like Scrofula, Eczema, and Many Skin Troubles.

As well as a general Spring medicine for catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, Hood's Sarsaparilla is of great value to men, women, children.

It does this thorough work in these well-defined diseases by cleansing the blood, on the pure, healthy condition of which depend the vigor and tone of the whole system.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is equally successful in the treatment of troubles that are not so well defined—cases of a low or run-down condition or general debility, loss of appetite and that tired feeling, or cases in which we see now very plainly after-effects of the worry and anxiety caused by the world war and the debility following the grip, influenza and fevers. In all such ailments it has accomplished a wonderful amount of good.
Hood's Pills help as a stomach tonic, digestive cathartic.

A NATIONAL WASTE.

During the war there was a movement to save garbage. In the year 1918, 40 cities that used to dump garbage, began to dispose of it for feed to swine. A writer in the Engineering News Record, estimates that garbage still wasted would yield annually 30,000,000 pounds of grease and 60,000 tons of fertilizer tankage, with a remainder enough to produce 40,000,000 pounds of pork.

If this investigator would consider all the many communities where there is no system of garbage collection, he might have to figure out a much more aggregate of waste. Millions of families that do not keep any hogs must burn their waste or dump it.

The lavish old ways are not right in these days. Things are different from the times when land and food were so abundant and cheap. It was foolish even then to allow a third the value of fruit and root crops to be thrown away in peelings and cores and other waste. But it is idiotic to allow it in these times.

There ought to be an organized effort all over the country to see that garbage is systematically collected and sold for feeding or reduction purposes. In a rural neighborhood where practically everyone keeps swine, it would of course be unnecessary. But wherever there is a village where people do not have this means of garbage disposal, then there will be serious waste unless a system of collection is established. It would usually pay for itself.

Even in cases where the garbage couldn't be sold for cost of collection, the removal of this refuse, which serves as a breeding place for insects, would pay as a health measure.

The French nation would come pretty near living on the garbage pails of America, as they were filled before the war anyway. Saving waste is just as essential to prosperity as increasing products.

The Bolsheviks should reflect on the very high cost of soap boxes under the inefficient Socialist system.

CAUSE FOR ALARM IN CHINA.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
There is nothing to laugh at in the Peking cable dispatch describing the Chinese government as alarmed over a report from Petrograd "relative to the formation of a Chinese workingmen's organization of 50,000 members for the object of carrying on revolutionary propaganda and establishing Soviets in China." Whatever there may be that is fundamentally meritorious in the Soviet system of the Russian Bolsheviks, it can be sure to have not penetrated the minds of the Chinese who have been assisting the Lenin-Trotsky regime. Well may the Peking government dread the home-coming of Chinese bent on introducing Bolshevism into their country. For all these men know of the Soviet system is that which has to do with murder and loot.

Credible witnesses have testified that the most atrocious of the Bolsheviks' bloody deeds were committed by Chinese, because even the most patriotic Russians hesitated at times to go to the lengths demanded by the radical theory touching world purification. Official executions of hundreds of Russians who were in the way of the Bolsheviks have been described. When the firing squads were composed of Chinese, as they often were, the executioners shot at the legs of the victims first; then they killed them with gunfire. If these Chinese return to their country, it is no difficult to imagine what excesses they would commit, what a terrible state of affairs they would bring about. Having been warned, the Chinese government should take steps to prevent their return home. They should be met at the border by troops and every one shot.

ALASKA CAN.

(Fairbanks, Alaska, Citizen.)
If the United States government will detail one of its expert mining engineers to come to Fairbanks and make a survey of the area of placer lands now being mined, it will find out that there is not less than one billion dollars' worth of gold on creeks that have been prospected and values determined. These deposits are of too low a grade to be profitably worked by the present methods, but would be made available at as low a cost as $100 per horse power year this gold could all be recovered and profitably produced. The resulting income from these reopened mines will be substantial. It is estimated that the placer gold revenue of the United States is a revenue of $10,000,000. From this source alone, then, the United States could and would recover more than the total cost of a power plant such as the Mining Congress and the commercial clubs of Fairbanks and Nenana are agitating.

Assuming that a 10,000 horse power plant at the Lignite coal fields would cost $10,000,000 this charging against the power produced thereby and distributed therefrom, interest on the investment, the costs of operation and maintenance and 5 per cent on the total cost as a sinking fund, in twenty years the power produced would be sold for $10,000,000. The investment, and the government would have a plant good for several more generations which would have paid for itself and through the direct revenue of which it would have secured a revenue of no less than $10,000,000 of dollars. And this would be from Fairbanks placer gold deposits alone.

Alaska would produce enough taxable wealth during the next generation to pay off the nation's war indebtedness. But the greatest feature of all would be that, by initiating this great enterprise, the United States would be opening a new field for industrial enterprises in which the returning soldiers of the United States would take an active part.

They went forth to fight for American ideals. It is up to America to reward them for their sacrifice by giving them the opportunity to show in the making of a new empire, and in the creation of new national wealth. Alaska can pay the nation's war debt.

Here below to live is to change, and to be perfect is to have changed often. —Cardinal Newman.

"Well, bless your heart Maggie, I did forget, that's a fact," says Ben, apatting her on the back; "but it's no wonder," he says. DR. LEWIS' MOTHER MAKES REPLY TO PROF. W. H. JOHNSON

Editor of the Advocate:—Will you present me, the mother of Dr. William Howard Lewis, the privilege of replying to an open letter of Prof. W. H. Johnson in criticism of a statement of Dr. Lewis in his letter written at Bordeaux, January 22nd regarding the situation of France today.

In the first place may I state that no one of the multitudes who went to France, at the call of her need, went with more sympathy and a keener desire to help France and the French people than did Dr. and Mrs. Lewis. If he is now disillusioned regarding that need and the attitude of the French, it is the inevitable conclusion of what he has seen and heard through a full year of service. Dr. Lewis has had unusual opportunity of observing conditions. For two months he was attached to the American Hospital in Paris. Afterward, the particular Red Cross activity in which he was engaged, he has seen the sufferings of southern France, small towns and hamlets as well as all of the larger cities. He knows whereof he speaks.

I confess that when I read the letter published in the Advocate some weeks since, I questioned the wisdom of his making it known—but there can be no doubt of the truth of his conclusions. Prof. Johnson evidently is not reading current literature as given to us by many writers well qualified to speak because of their opportunity of learning at first hand the real situation. As far back as December 1918 an article appeared in the Atlantic Monthly, which states the case practically as Dr. Lewis gives it. It is a fact that in this fifth year of the war Americans think of France as a ruined country and in a restricted sense the physical desolation is more complete than it is possible to describe—but in a large sense France is not ruined at all. It is no different from the flourishing before—Rivers of gold pour in from the Golcondas of the world—Americans alone are spending in France upwards of $200,000,000 a month. Upon every dollar of this the government has a 10 per cent tax on all sales raises a considerable portion of its present revenue—although the taxation of her own people is notoriously light—French contributions to their own charities form one of the least important of their contributions. A startling criticism of this attitude to say that, when the Americans supply supplies into French towns, for the use of French sick and refugees, an "octroi" is actually levied upon them at once town gates. Weeks ago Clemenceau in an interview acknowledged the matter of overcharging Americans but begs the whole question by stating that "Americans have been coming to Europe with abundant means and great generosity has been spoiling the French." Gregory Mason, than whom there is no more dependable authority says regarding the exploiting by the French of the American soldier. "Unfortunately in too many cases the American has been unfortunate. Impressions of French character—in dealing with the village inns and the village store he has too often been made to pay through the nose and to pay at that, for shoddy goods and cold rooms."

I beg your indulgence if I shoddy quote, this time from Collier's Weekly, of March 5th, for the benefit of Prof. Johnson and others, who may have been startled by the statement in the printed letter of Dr. Lewis. The writer of the Collier article is a well known European correspondent. "There is a good deal of talk about restoring France with American money—so far as France acquires this money on a commercial basis, well and good. But it is not the American relations with France that are fruitful to both. France to do well for herself in these commercial transactions.

The chief economic resource that France has just now is the American soldier and the American army. Some two million American soldiers have been spending an average of certainly not less than $15 a month figure for food, clothing, shelter, and other necessities. The American government has been spending a month in France for rent and purchase of one kind and another. Although the American government has loaned some $2,000,000,000 to France within a year; at the present rate France will owe us nothing. She will have liquidated the debt by means of

NEWARK LETTER
TELLING OF CLUB

Among the first "Bring 'Em Back" clubs organized in this county was the Leo T. Prior club formed by George M. Penberg. On February 14 the War Savings committee wrote to Mr. Prior enclosing a list of the people who had pledged themselves to buy W. S. S. in honor. This morning a reply came from Prior who is stationed with Battery B, 324th H. F. A., A. P. O. 734 (Germany) saying "It is with sincere gratification that I am privileged to be one of the very first named in the 'Bring 'Em Back' clubs organized in Licking county. The expression of sentiment named in honor 'Bring 'Em Back' by my very dear friends in membership is greatly appreciated in a public recognition of love and affection. The charter which is being held by Mr. Penberg pending my return home will always be one of my cherished possessions."

Letters have been sent to other Licking county soldiers and sailors telling of clubs formed in their honor but sufficient time has not elapsed to receive acknowledgements from them. Hundreds of Licking county men are yet to be named in "Bring 'Em Back' clubs. Not one should be neglected or forgotten.

Friends or relatives who desire blanks to start clubs in honor of soldiers or sailors are requested to call at W. S. S. headquarters or to telephone auto 23124.

War Savings Stamp Sales this week amount to $14,134 bringing the total since January 1st to $109,555.

ESTHONIANS THREATEN TO CAPTURE PETROGRAD

Paris, March 22.—Havas.—The Estonian case against Joseph F. Rutherford, president of the International Bible Students association and his co-defendants, also officials of that religious society, was concluded and defendants released on June 21, 1918. Immediately they appealed the case to the United States circuit court of appeals at the same time applying for bill of review, appeal, which was denied. Counsel for the defense allege 125 errors were made by the trial court in the case.

Counsel for the government have held these assignments of error and have thereby delayed the hearing of the case in the appellate court, and without any real reason. In the meantime these Christian gentlemen are not only deprived of the opportunity to continue their Christian work, but they are held in prison, constantly being compelled to associate with professional criminals of the worst type. Their health and lives are being endangered. Why have these Christians not given a speedy trial of admitted to bail? Why not deal justly with them? Why this unusual harshness?

Furthermore, they are charged with conspiracy to interfere with the war by the publication of a book, which is strictly an interpretation of the Bible and written before the war. They were engaged in the same religious work years before the war.

As Judge H. R. Howe of the U. S. district court in Brooklyn, before whom the men were tried, and who sentenced them to 20 years imprisonment, said in response to a telegram from the department of justice the third instance, that he had imposed a severe penalty as an example to others believing the president would release them after the war.

And he further says (as he also stated at the time of trial) that he believes these men to be sincere and he is not in favor of keeping them in confinement now that the war has ended.

Why not write Attorney General A. M. Palmer, Washington, D. C., to use his influence to pardon these men. We can also aid these men by signing one of the many petitions now being circulated in their behalf.

THE BOY SCOUTS

On Monday evening the members of Troop 6 were inspected by Mr. Fitch, the Scout Field Commissioner for this section, who came over from Columbus especially for this purpose.

Mr. Fitch was assisted by Scoutmaster Franklin and Assistant Scoutmaster Gilbert and Myers, and also Scout Bob Gracer, who was appointed by Mr. Fitch to act as secretary of inspection. The following members of the Troop committee were also present: Fred M. Black, George E. Pickup and W. W. Gard.

There were 28 scouts present of whom 17 were in uniform. The results of the inspection were as follows: nine who had uniforms failed to wear them; 11 had bad teeth; 8 had hands which were dirty; at the end of three minutes only two were remaining on the floor in the alertness of mind test. Twenty-five took part in the Tenderfoot test of which 11 gave correct answers. Fourteen took part in the Second class test of which only eight passed a satisfactory examination.

Recently it has been impossible to go on the bikes which have been set for Sunday afternoon, but this Sunday, weather conditions permitting, there will be a hike at 2 o'clock.

A Queer Old Bird is The Pelican

Its bill holds more than its bellican.

But at that, its heart is bigger than its bill. It is the only bird which shares its food with other and weaker fowl.

So the queer old pelican looms up handsome in Goodrich's eyes—eyes which see beauty that is more than skin deep.

Goodrich, it is true, makes Silvertown Cords the handsomest tires—the very Beau Brummel tires of smart cars.

Yet if clumsiness and ugliness would add one mile to their service, Goodrich would make them clumsy and ugly as the queer old pelican.

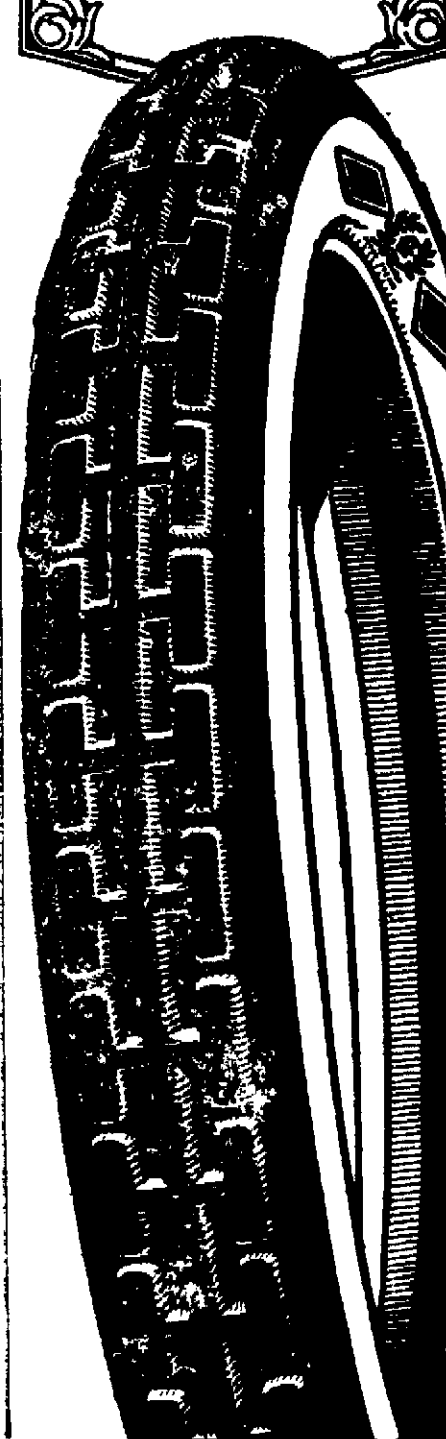

"Quality First," rules in the manufacture of Silvertowns; and they render quality service first and last.

This was followed by numerous other transactions up to 1000 shares at 90 1/4 to par. The market was generally active, with most of the type represented by Baldwin Locomotive, Central Leather, and the Motors and their specialties.

Chicago Grain Review.

Chicago, March 22.—Week-end adjustment of trade helped to rally the corn market today from weakness which developed at the outset. Opening prices which ranged from unchanged figures to 1 1/8 lower with July $1.36 1/4 to $1.37 1/4, were followed by a material setback all around and the price rose to well above yesterday's close.

Outs reflected the action of corn. After opening 1 1/2c off to 3 1/2c up, with May 67 1/2c to 68 1/2c, the market sagged, but later scored moderate gains.

Provisions lacked support. Firmness in the hog market seemed to be virtually ignored.

CHICAGO BOWLERS WILL TRY FOR HIGH MARK

An early rise in today's stock market was met by heavy profit-taking, incidental to the week-end session. United States Steel reacted from its additional advance to the new high of 100 1/4, for the current movement, falling to 99 1/4, a fraction under yesterday's final price, and other stocks declined proportionately. One stock which moved up was Central Leather, which was up 1/2c to 10 1/2c. The market was generally active, with most of the type represented by Baldwin Locomotive, Central Leather, and the Motors and their specialties.

LEWIS IS DEFEATED BY WLADEK ZBYSKO

New York, March 22.—Wladek Zbyzsko won the world's heavyweight wrestling championship by defeating Ed (Strangler) Lewis of Lexington, Ky., in 1 hour, 34 minutes and 38 seconds at Madison Square Garden last night. He threw Lewis with a body hold after squirming out of a headlock which Lewis had held for nearly a minute and a half.

After the men had been wrestling one hour and a half Lewis secured one of his famous headlocks which he held for one minute and a half. When Zbyzsko broke away he staggered against the ropes and was very groggy.

Zbyzsko took a flying leap for another headlock with which he threw Zbyzsko again to the mat. Zbyzsko by sheer strength straightened up from the hard erect position and secured a body hold, forcing Lewis to the mat, where he pinned his shoulders for the winning fall.

At one stage of the contest Zbyzsko got a toe hold from which he struggled in great agony. Both men were in good physical condition and the wrestling all through was scientific and clean.

Newark Stamping & Foundry Company Making Extensive Improvements

The Newark Stamping & Foundry Co. is now a very busy place, and this company is now engaged in making extensive improvements in its Foundry Department to take care of its newly acquired business. The Foundry Department will suspend operation for about two weeks for the purpose of installing cranes and other equipments to facilitate, and make more efficient its Moulding Department.

Three car loads of equipment have just arrived from the May-Fieberger Co. of Akron and in order to take care of the pressing demand for this furnace the actual manufacture of same will begin about April 15th.

The company has acquired additional land, and a two-story Mounting Shop will be erected at once. In fact the material for same is now on the ground.

The Hose Clamp Department is now operating with an increased capacity to supply the heavy demand for these clamps which are now used by 85% of the Automobile manufacturers of America. The Foundry now has a daily output of 18,000 pounds of castings and gives employment to thirty molders. This capacity will be increased as the business demands. It will be necessary to operate a tin shop for the manufacturing of furnace jackets.

Many of the enterprising citizens of Newark who are interested in the welfare of the city are becoming interested in this concern. Last year this company paid out $60,000 in wages and the annual wages averaged about $1,000 for each employee.

In order to take care of the extensive improvement, providing new building and equipment, the company will offer its 7% cumulative preferred stock at the par value of $100 per share. Same is free from personal tax in Ohio. This stock is for sale by the J. N. Pugh Co., 808 Newark Trust Bldg. The citizens of Newark and Livingston Co., who are interested in the industrial growth of Newark are invited to call at the office of The J. N. Pugh Co. for full particulars with respect to this stock.

The J. N. Pugh Co. will be pleased to arrange for a partial payment plan, whereby this stock can be acquired by paying installments at certain specified times.
